Subject: FW: Another one! quick response please - EXERCISE EXERCISE EXERCISE Eagle Horizon Technical Support - Confirmed detonation in Washington, DC

FYI, I know that you have just health people in IRIS D, so I won't wait for a response on this one (didn't this morning either, hope you don't mind).

Another test of our rapid response capability: the issue is fires and smoke, but they're seeking expertise in decontamination, removal and disposal, not health effects.

No such expertise in NCEA?

Thanks everyone.

All

We received notice that a (virtual) detonation has occurred in Washington, DC. Massive fires and smoke throughout the area.

We have been asked to begin to assess options for debris decontamination, removal, and disposal.

Lek has asked for a briefing within the next 48 hours on options. Please immediately identify staff that has expertise in these areas who may be able to participate in brainstorming the options and provide the names and contact information.

NHSRC – I know that we have at a minimum Sang Don Lee and Paul Lemieux. Please add others.

Thanks.

Eric
